Summary of Oklahoma Court Finance

A. Funds Used for the Business of the Courts.

There are many fees, fines costs and forfeitures collected by the court clerk in a particular district court which are deposed into a local court fund in the county treasury where the district is located. Court funds are used for a multitude of courthouse, courtroom and operating expenditures. Because these collections are not the focus of this Interim Study, we need not spend unnecessary time discussing each and every court related fee, fine and costs and the funds which they are distributed, but appendix I is attached to this memorandum for informational purposes for your convenience.

B. Funds Collected on Behalf of Non-Court Entities.

There are many fees, fines costs and forfeitures collected by the court clerk which appear to have nothing to do with services of maintenance of the courts, but instead fund unrelated state programs

1. DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS ELECTRONIC MONITORING DEVICE

In instances where an electronic monitoring device has been ordered, the court may impose payment of a supervision fee. Payment of the fee, in whole or according to a court-ordered installment schedule, shall be a condition of pretrial release. The court clerk shall collect the supervision fees.[1] Note: it appears that this fee is retained by the court system. The original version of this report also mentions a second statute, 57 O.S. 2011 §510.10, which provides for electronic monitoring of inmates or person granted parole – a separate category from pre-trial individuals. That fee apparently is paid or owed to the Department of Corrections.[2]

2. INDIGENT DEFENSE SYSTEM[3]

This is a continuing revolving fund consisting of federal funds, grants, gifts and such other funds as are provided by law. All monies accruing to the credit of
